

Library Notes

For June, we call your attention to a special collection of books by the author Alexander McCall Smith. They are located on the bottom shelf of the 4th bookcase, on the left as you enter the library. This author continues to write books in this genre, and we would like to have your feedback on them.

There is always a new selection of books on the display table at the beginning of the month. They may be removed and returned like the rest of the library.

Please stop by and see all that we have to offer.
